Then you're going to buy an ice cream and your favourite will have an offer. Very nice until now, isn't it? Well, I'm sorry but this is going to change a little bit. The third day of the week you will fall unexpectedly, wait! That's not all, you will have a discussion with your parents because you're too rebellious, but that's the nature of an aquarius. On Thursday you're going to think you're really lucky because you will win all the games you play but Uranus and Saturn will line up and make you lose something you like, it will take time to find it, you will even go to give up, but don't do it!
